Take it Outside: Terracotta for the Garden with Carol Gouthro

9am-noon 6/25-8/13 $250

The botanical world is full of many wonderful and inspiring design ideas. We'll utilize these as we combine various handbuilding, sculpting, wheelthrowing and mold-making techniques, to create planters, bird baths, bas-relief tiles, urns and birdhouses. Just as the natural world has endless texture and color, we'll use a rich variety of finishing techniques and materials to enhance our creations, and will fire them to be weather-proof, in most cases. (Intermediate and advanced students)

Dig In : Terracotta in the Garden with Carol Gouthro

7-10 pm 6/25-8/13 $250

Learn basic coil and slab techniques in this beginning class, as well as unusual construction methods: folded forms, drop molds, bas-relief molds, and building with tar paper. We will use the rich world of botanical forms as our inspiration to create planters, bird baths, totems, bird houses, finials, and other garden related projects. We'll continue to look to nature as we finish our work with a variety of surface design processes and materials.

(Beginning and intermediate students)

Tuesdays

Summer Clay Projects with Matt Mitros

10am-1pm 6/26-8/14 $250

This wheel class for on-going students will introduce you to new throwing projects, altering techniques and surface options. Roll up your sleeves, and hone your skills, all under the expert eye of a fine teacher. The summer focus will be plates and lidded vessels.

Blurring the Lines with Geo Lastomirsky

7-10pm 6/26-8/14 $250

So you want to make handbuilt pots this summer, and you want to make sculpture? Geo will show you how to do both, and even help you make sense of combinations of the two. With clear and expert guidance, you'll learn making and finishing skills, and find a way to explore new territory. Open to all levels of students.

Build on This: A beginning and intermediate wheel class with Bill Wilcox

7-10pm 6/26-8/14 $250

Learn wheelthrowing essentials in this thorough and engaging class. Nothing beats a solid grounding in the fundamentals of wedging, centering, opening, pulling, shaping, altering, trimming, and glazing. If you've always wanted to throw pots on the wheel, (or maybe you did it a million years ago in school), this is the chance you've been waiting for!

Wednesdays

Wednesday Clay: a handbuilding and sculpture class with Bethany Woll 10am-1pm

6/27-8/15 $250

Many of the students in this on-going and project-oriented class continue year after year; learning new skills, helping each other, and tapping into the wealth of wisdom their teacher has at her fingertips. This friendly group is always open to newcomers who want a supportive and fun clay experience.

START UP : A 5 week introduction to Clay, with

Miki Willis 6pm-9pm (note different time)

6/27-7/25 $150

Stretch it, bend it, coil it, push it, pinch it, roll it.....Clay is an exciting art material because of its versatile abilities. Take this five week beginner's class to start having fun with clay. You'll learn wheel basics, handbuilding techniques, and surface treatment options. Who knows, you might not want to stop!

Independent Study for Advanced Students:

Seward Park Clay Studio has some of the very finest clay teachers in Seattle. If taking an 8 week class doesn't suit your schedule during the summer months, why not enroll as an independent study student? You get 3, one-hour tutorial sessions with the teacher of your choice, and use of the studio during the generously scheduled practice times. This is a great way to get focused time with your teacher, and to work on a specific project. $220 (phone the studio for details)

Children's Clay Classes with Jen Mills

Under the Big Top- a class for 6-8 year olds

4 Thursdays, 9-10:30 am, 6/28- 7/19 $70

Step right up! It's an exciting circus with tigers, elephants, clowns, acrobats and more! In this class, we will make different projects around a circus theme, including a group project where each student will contribute to the big top. We will begin with drawings to create our fantasy circus, and then work with clay to make our favorite characters. Come and join the adventure!

Fantasy Dreams and Super Heroes- a class for 9-14 year olds 4 Thursdays, 11 am-1pm, (bring a lunch) 6/28- 7/19 $70

Make up a story, complete with heroes and heroines.
We'll learn basic handbuilding techniques so everyone can create their own characters, costumes, and fantasy worlds. Different glaze colors and surfaces will complete the story. Anything is possible!
